NAVIGATING THE 2008 CHARTERED FINANCIAL ANALYST® EXAM

At Schweser, we understand the importance of using the right study tools to prepare for the CFA® Exam efficiently and effectively. In partnership with your Society, we are offering discounted prices on our June 2008 CFA Review Study Tools and Instruction—the essential complement to the original CFA Institute reference material.

As a candidate preparing for the CFA exam, there are many important details to consider. Below is an easy-to-follow outline compiled by Schweser that summarizes everything you need to navigate the June 2008 CFA Exam.

[The CFA Program Overview]

The CFA designation is highly regarded in the financial services industry and represents an advanced level of knowledge and experience. The CFA Program consists of a series of three examinations (Levels 1, 2 and 3). CFA Exam Levels must be taken in succession and are offered only once annually in June. There is an exception for Level 1 candidates who also have the option to take the exam in December.

You can take as much time as you need to complete the program, and there is no limit to the number of times you can take each exam. The curriculum is dynamic; it changes annually to meet the nature and complexity of the global investment profession.

Depending upon your knowledge of topic areas in the CFA curriculum, you should expect to spend more than 250 hours preparing for each CFA Exam Level.

[Each CFA Level is designed to reflect the CFA Candidate Body of Knowledge™]

Level 1 candidates focus on tools and concepts that apply to investment valuation and portfolio management, as well as an overview of these processes within the guidelines of the CFA Institute Code of Ethics and Standards of Professional Conduct.

Level 2 candidates must apply the tools and concepts emphasized at Level 1 (analyzing and valuing investments), and focus on asset valuation while being able to apply the Code of Ethics and Standards of Professional Conduct.

Level 3 candidates must demonstrate effective knowledge of the entire portfolio management process. They must also be capable of applying the concepts learned at Levels 1 and 2 to the portfolio management process.

Important: As a new candidate, be sure to click on this Testing Policies link and read all of the Testing Policies set forth by CFA Institute.

June 2008 CFA Exam Formats

The Level 1 examination is currently composed of multiple choice questions. The exam includes a total of 240 questions: 120 in the morning session and 120 in the afternoon session. Each of the 240 questions is weighted equally and has four possible answers (A,B,C,D).

The Level 2 examination is currently composed of item-set questions. The exam includes a total of 20 item sets: 10 in the morning session and 10 in the afternoon session. An item set contains a vignette (average length is 1.5 pages) and six multiple-choice items (questions). On the Level 2 exam you will have a total of 120 items (20 vignettes with 6 items each), all equally weighted.

The Level 3 examination currently uses the essay format in the morning and item-set format in the afternoon. The essay exam generally has between 12 and 15 questions, and questions may have multiple parts. The format in the afternoon is comprised of 10 item sets, each containing 6 multiple-choice items (questions) for a total of 60 items.

Candidate Eligibility Requirements

To enter the CFA Program, you must first pay a one-time registration fee and then the required enrollment fee for each CFA Exam Level, which includes the CFA Institute reference material, and one partial sample exam.

To be eligible to enter the CFA Program, you must:

- Hold a U.S. bachelor's (or equivalent) degree, be in the final year of your bachelor's degree program, or have four years of qualified, professional work experience or a combination of work and college experience that totals at least four years
- Meet the professional conduct admission criteria (during the application process, you will be asked to sign statements of Professional Conduct and Candidate Responsibility)
- Be prepared to take the exams in English
